Margot Ackermann is Homeward's Research and Evaluation Director. She is responsible for coordinating data collection, analysis, and reporting for the organization and its partners, with a focus on measuring outcomes of interest to service providers, funders, and policy makers. Margot completed her Ph.D. in applied experimental psychology at Old Dominion University, where she was involved in a number of research and evaluation projects dealing with risky behaviors, including sexual risk-taking and alcohol, tobacco, and other drug use. She also holds an M.A. in English (University of North Carolina at Wilmington, 1991) and a B.A. in psychology (Wake Forest University, 1988).

In Margot's spare time, she enjoys hanging out with her husband and two dogs and running with her friends. She thinks the beach and the dog park are the greatest places in the world.
